In case Mr vs. Ms,

On account of XY/17

Granting irrevocable summons and authorised representation as well as general authorisation including in particular the following rights

1. To conduct a lawsuit (among others, pursuant to sections 81 ff. Code of Civil Procedure), including the authority to put forward and withdraw counterclaims,
2. For representation in all tax matters before the respective administrative bodies and courts,
3. For representation in any other proceedings and extrajudicial negotiations of any kind, in particular also in representation before administrative bodies;
4. To establish and terminate contractual relationships and to make unilateral declarations of intent (e.g. notice of termination).

The power of attorney applies to any accessory and subsequent proceedings (e.g. attachment and temporary injunction, proceedings related to decision fixing costs, execution, intervention, judicial sale, sequestration and deposit as well as bankruptcy and settlement proceedings with respect to the opposing party's property).

The said power of attorney comprises in particular the authority to effect and accept notifications, to transfer this power of attorney in whole or in part to other parties (sub-power of attorney), to file, withdraw or waive appeals, to settle the lawsuit or extrajudicial negotiation, by means of compromise, waiver or acknowledgement, to accept money, valuables and documents, in particular also the matter in dispute, as well as amounts reimbursed, by the opposing party, the judicial cashier or any other authorities.
